

Yank Feeds Sicilian Children

The children of Sicily gather eagerly around the American soldier conquerors. Gratefully they reach for the food which they have been waiting for. This sergeant shares his rations with the hungry children.

Sacred Concert at Central Church Sunday Afternoon

Prof. Raymond Moremen, head of the voice department of U. C. L. A., and director of the A. Cappella Choir and Glee clubs, will sing in a sacred concert to be given Sunday afternoon at 4:30 at the Central Community church. Mrs. Mary Tinglof of Santa Monica will accompany Mr. Moremen at the piano.

Readings from the Scripture, appropriate to each division of song, will be given by the pastor of the church, the Rev. H. Wesley Roloff.

Mr. Moremen, whose exceptional baritone voice is well known to many Torrance residents, will sing from the great arias of the church.

This program will be the eighth in a series of ten special vesper services to be held in Central church according to the pastor. The church is located at Arlington and Marefina in Torrance.

TRAILER PARKING DENIED

An application for parking of a trailer at the service station at the corner of Cravens ave. and Torrance Blvd., was denied by the city council Tuesday.

Mission Free of Debt Petitions Bishop For Church Status

At a recent meeting, the congregation of St. Andrew's Episcopal mission voted to ask the consent of the Rt. Reverend W. Bertrand Stevens, bishop of the Los Angeles diocese, to organize as a parish church.

Oct. 25 has already been designated by Bishop Stevens as the day for consecrating St. Andrew's church, and it is hoped that on the same day the congregation may become an independent parish and install its present vicar, Rev. Paul Moore Wheeler, as its rector.

The two moves have been made possible within the past two months because the local church has assumed complete financial support of the church and have paid in full the debt on the church building.

In conjunction with the vicar, on behalf of the congregation, the church officials, Wallace Post, warden; Hugh Barnes, treasurer; and Robert Lessing, clerk, will present the petition to the bishop, who has already assured the congregation that he will approve it.
